

November 4-5, 2022
Stanford University

BEESCUitS Schedule, RECORD VERSION

Friday, November 4th, 2022

Session 1: Belief Updating

Maxim Bakhtin (with Muriel Niederle and Markus Mobius) – Optimal Recall

Polina Detkova (with Marina Agranov) – Does Information Really Validate the Prior? An Experiment

Meng-Jhang Fong – Belief Updating under an Ambiguous and Asymmetric Information Structure — An Experimental Study

Tony Fan (with Yucheng Liang and Cameron Peng) – The Inference-Forecast Gap in Belief Updating

Session 2: Cognitive Hierarchies

Nina Buchmann (with Colin Sullivan and Carl Meyer) – Paternalistic Discrimination

Po-Hsuan Lin – Cognitive Hierarchies in Multi-Stage Games of Incomplete Information

Session 3: Field Experiments

Thomas Henning (with Xiaomin Li and Colin Camerer) – Hidden Markov Modeling of the Cognitive Process in Strategic Thinking

Alex Chan – Discrimination Against Doctors: A Field Experiment

Reka Zemleni (with Andres Rodriguez) – Too Much or Too Little Faith? Experimental Evidence from Colombian Entrepreneurs

Saturday, November 5th, 2022

Session 4: Decision-Making

Gonzalo Arrieta (with Maxim Bakhtin) – Failures of Strategic Thinking

Aldo Lucia – What Drives Violations of the Independence Axiom?

Vlasta Rasocha (with Alejandro Martínez-Marquina) – Deterministic yet Unrealized: Failures of Sequential Reasoning

Lukas Bolte (with Collin Raymond) – Emotional Inattention

Session 5: Games and Social Interactions

Adrian Blattner (with Martin Koenen) – Breaking the Bubble: Does Exposure Reduce Prejudice?

Alena Buinskaya – Walking in Others' Shoes: Binary Public Good Game Experiment

Alex Lenk – Preferences for Respecting Other's Freedom of Choice

Sally Zhang – Causes and Consequences of Intra-Household Hidden Income